He was nice.
They both were.

I'm sorry I was rude to you back there.
It's Okay.
I'm sorry I couldn't stop your plane from crashing.
It's not like it was your fault or anything, right?

Who are you talking to back there?

My name's
Dino,
by the way.
What do you go by?

Oh. It's Nirvana... but everyone calls
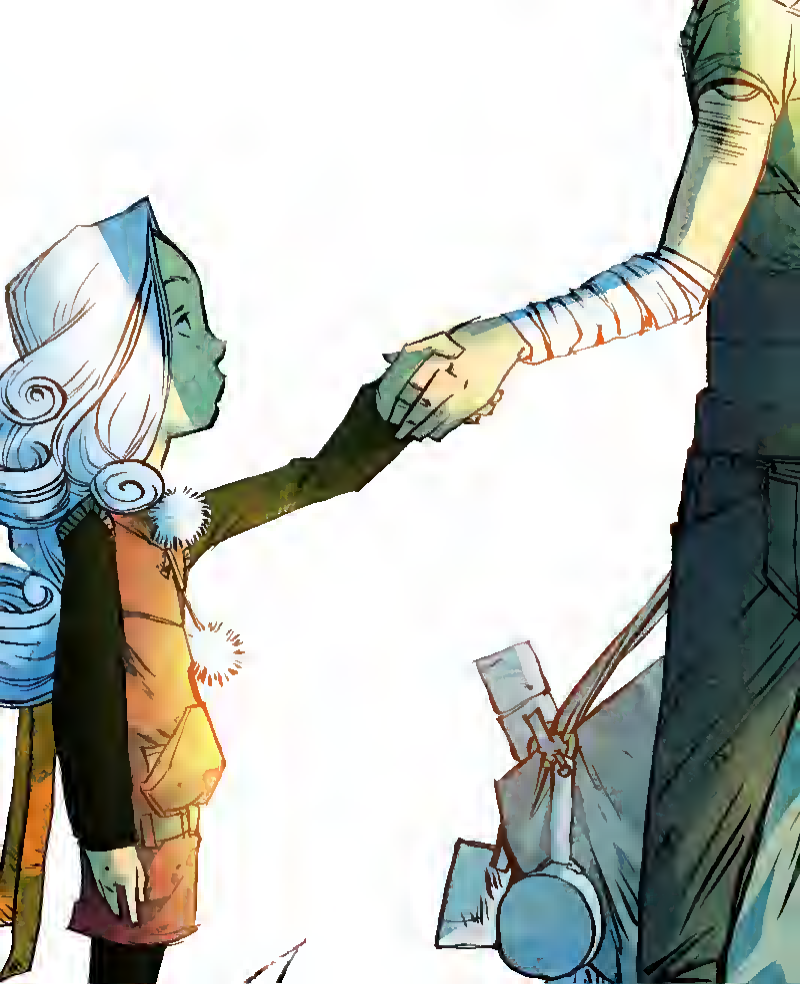
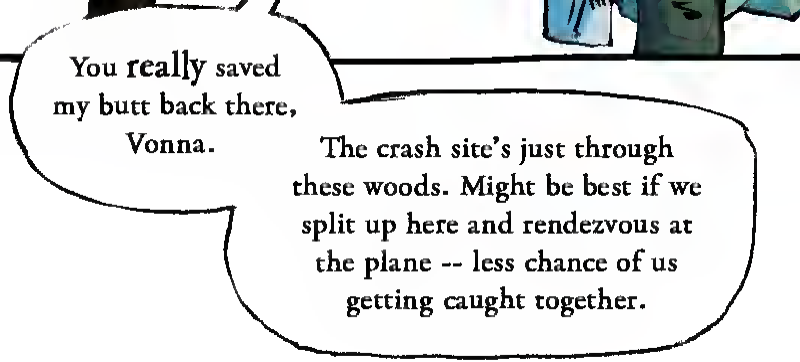
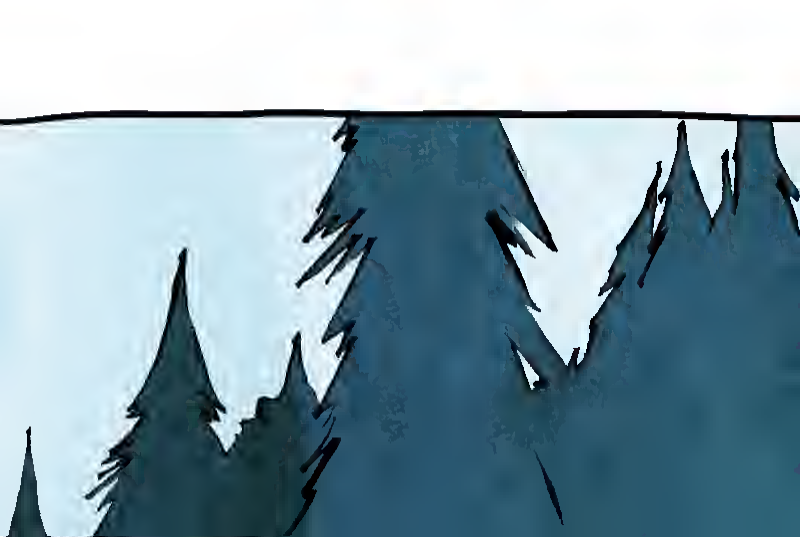
me Vonna.



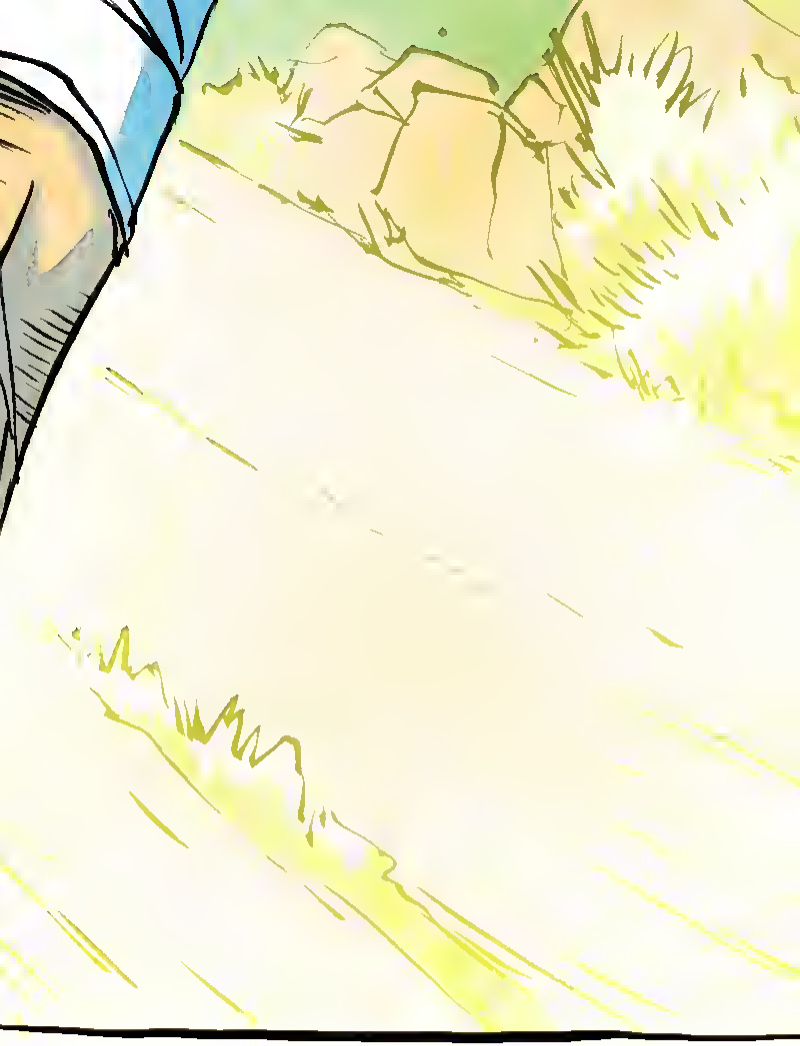


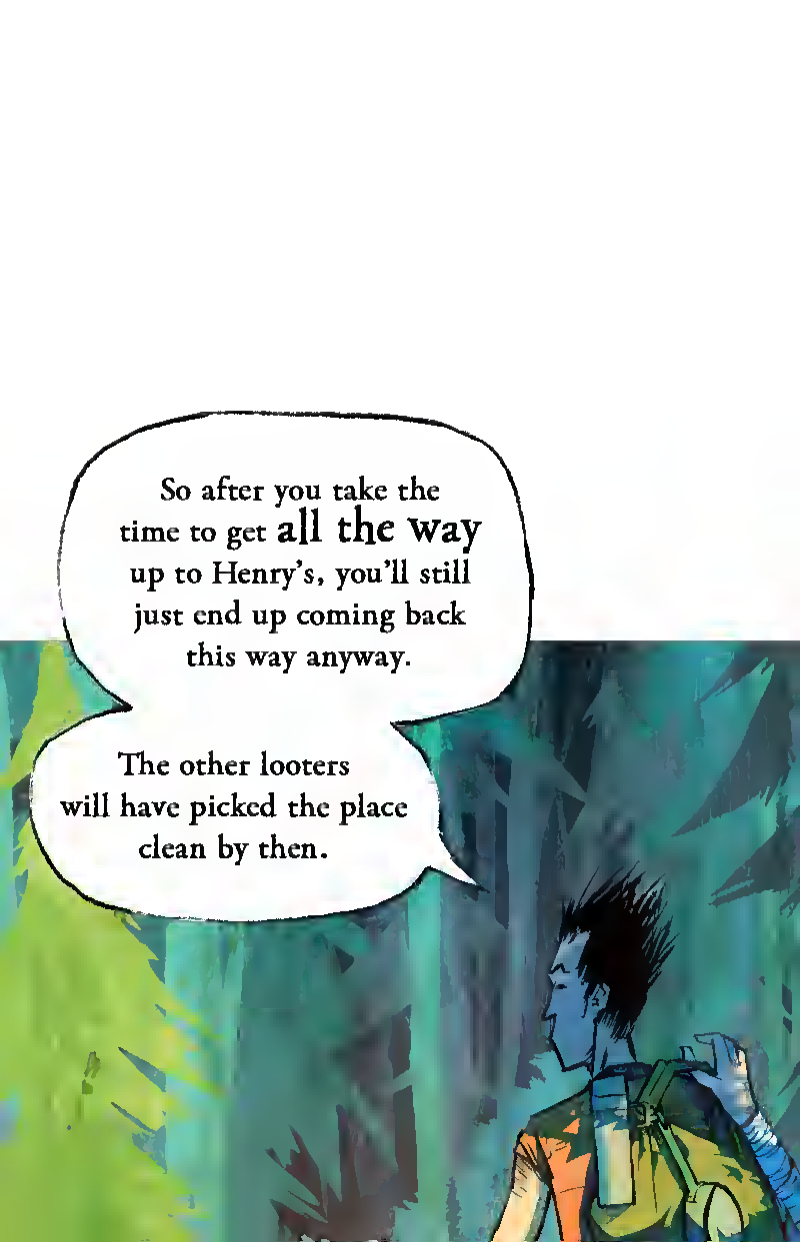
You really saved my butt back there, Vonna.
The crash site's just through these woods. Might be best if we split up here and rendezvous at the plane -- less chance of us getting caught together.

Caught by who?
I think I'll just follow the road up to Henry's place.



Suit yourself, but the plane crashed in the other direction from that dude's house.

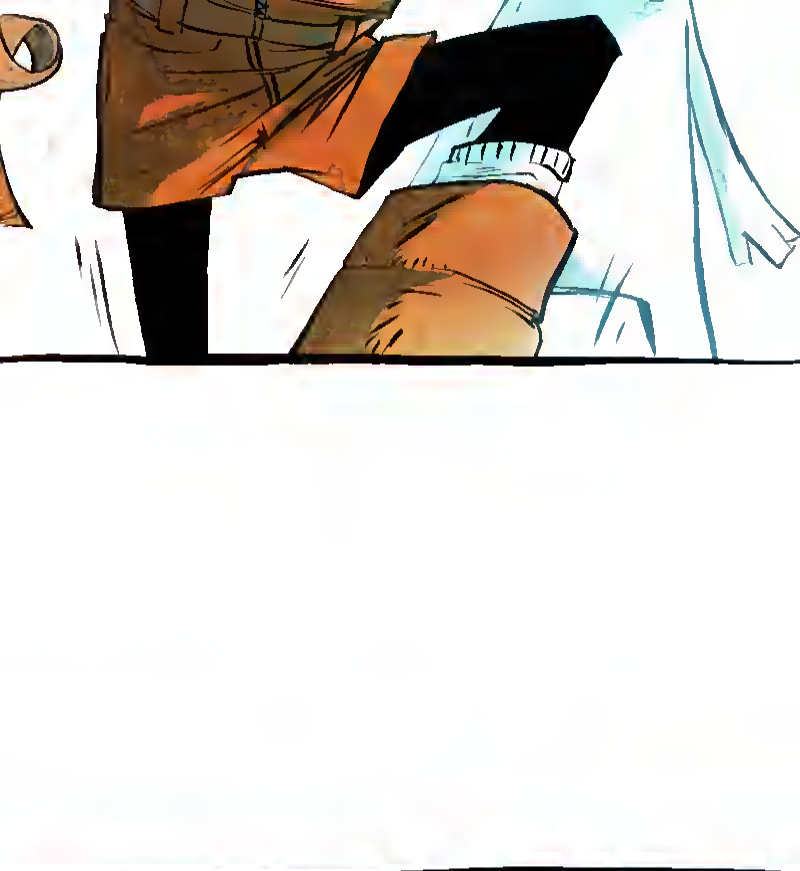




So after you take the time to get all the way up to Henry's, you'll still just end up coming back this way anyway.
The other looters will have picked the place clean by then.

Other looters?

Hey!



That's

MY
plane!
No one's gonna touch it!
